The recipient of the Centennial Yearbook is an outstanding member of the faculty. His leadership and sense of responsibility are evident in both the classroom and on the athletic field.

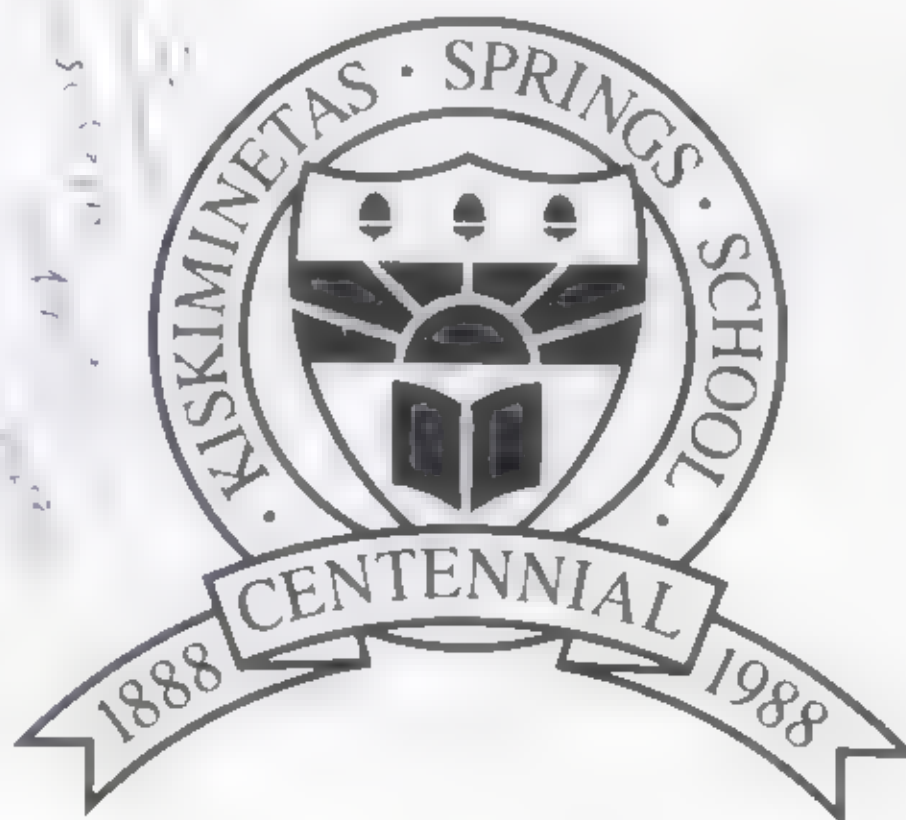

A Kiski boy himself, this man was appointed to Kiski in 1978. Dutifully he has taught his highly regarded English course, and this year has added an elective concerning essay writing. He has coached the varsity golf and baseball teams to several successful and league championship seasons. The yearbook takes great pleasure in dedicating the 1988 yearbook to Mr. Lee Crawford.

Prefects and Headwaiters

The prefect system at Kiski provides an effective form of student government. A prefect is a student body member elected to a position of leadership and responsibility. Some duties of prefects include organizing activities and controlling dorm life. They also play an important role in the maturing process and progression of younger students. Many younger students look upon a prefect as a big brother who is around to give advice and to help him in times of difficulty.

James Kucik was this year's head prefect. As head prefect, Jim was responsible for initiating many programs and activities for Kiski students.

Prominent and respected juniors and seniors make up the prefect body. These people have a very positive attitude that centers around helping and bettering Kiski life. The privilege of serving as a prefect is rewarding and an honorable experience.

This year a group of seniors was selected as headwaiters of the dining hall under the guidance of Mr. William Turley. Under this supervision, Mr. Turley controls the procedures of the dining hall and directs the duties of the headwaiters. The main purpose of a headwaiter is to see that every meal is run properly. Among their duties, a headwaiter is responsible for beginning the meals on time, assigning a waiter to each table, and making certain that each waiter's responsibilities are properly met.

The headwaiters this year were Scott Cooper, Neil Pettes, Mark Absy, Steve Szilagyi, Philip Pringle and Tony Pignatello. There are four phases in which they must run the meal. First floor taps the student who a faculty member wishes to see. The second floor relieves this post and opens and closes the doors. First kitchen organizes the waiters and signals the announcer to begin the announcements. The second kitchen relieves this post and directs the action in the kitchen.

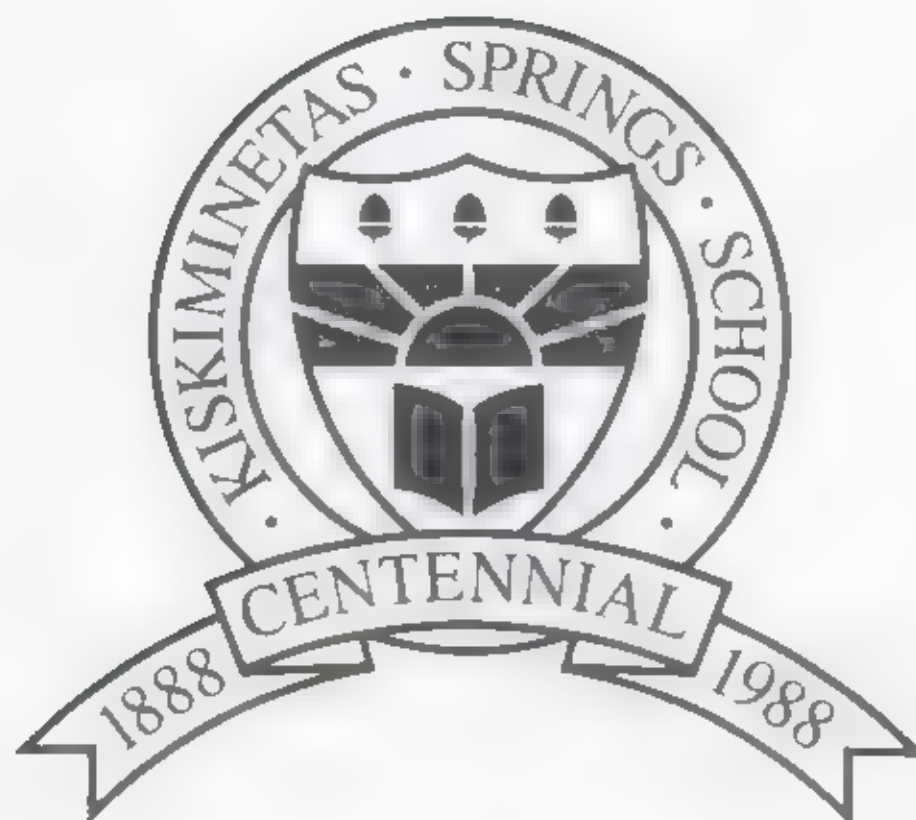

The services of the prefects and headwaiters are appreciated greatly by all.

Todd,
 Have such a swell young man.
 I hope you got many adventures.

SENIORS

A Tribute to Kiski and the Class of 1988

by Sean Nolan and Brian Endersbe

Some of us have endured four years and watched a dozen Saltsburg seasons mesh and hesitate. For these few, our day in May will be most sweet and most rewarding. Others have spent only a year on Kiski's campus, the centennial year. All have contributed to our spirit, and brought new hope to possibly dismal forecasts.

In spite of all the sacrifices, in spite of all the hardships, and in spite of all the difficulties, we, the entire Class of 1988, can no doubt be glad of what we have been through over the course of the last one, two, three, or four years. Each of us has brought with us something new and different to bear and each of us has taken away some lasting effect of Kiski — unforgettable and meaningful. As we jog the paths of our future memories we will recall how unique and special our time spent here actually was; there are very few schools like us anymore and perhaps even Kiski may lose its distinctly boys flavor and atmosphere. However, if the choice must be made as to preserving our memories, I am sure we will choose the former.

More importantly, we may reflect on what has been accomplished since our arrival. We have organized dances, built bonfires, cheered teams, won races, watched wonderful shows and drama productions, staged spring carnivals, ushered in new Kiski boys, our followers, published newspapers and yearbooks, and have guided and been guided as Prefects and by Prefects. We have achieved academically, been pushed and prodded on the playing field, missed those we have lost, debated against our peers and teachers, laughed together, wept together . . . We have all in a sense been reborn at Kiski, the dawn of a tremendous day of discovery and knowledge.

Countless trips to Saltsburg and the Green Store, moments of athletic rivalry, glory, and despair (known especially to those of us all too familiar with the grueling morning workout), hikes into the woods, hushed and humbled talks with older boys, battles in pay phone lines, photos taken of one another . . . All of these have afforded us those uniquely human bonds which seem to form and make up a Kiski career. More than anything, however, I mean to emphasize what we have accomplished as contributing directly and wholly to a finding of our true selves — a distinct knowledge of who we are and who we are not. This, as we all know, is a favorite theme of our headmaster, and rightly so. If Kiski has done nothing else it has served to instill in us an acceptance of ourselves without barriers, shields, masks, or disguises of any kind. For this I am moved and deeply grateful.

And so we write our own chapter in Kiski's history, one that unites us with our predecessors of decades past and one that will continue to unite us with our future legacies — brothers, cousins, sons, grandsons . . . Kiski has become a profound part of our very natures, our beings. As we face the prospect of co-education and other new challenges, we can only hope that the ideas and tradition which we prospered under will continue to flourish.

The Kiski Experience. Most recognize this phrase although no one other than K-Club members use it regularly. Often this phrase is completed with "is different from any other," which is becoming more true each year. As many similar schools are giving in to outside pressures, Kiski School remains firmly if not stubbornly resistant to the winds of change. Enduring as different simply to be different can't be justified. However, when people work at something they believe in and find success along the way, they must feel a pride which makes capitulation impossible.

Different has many connotations, but in connection with this school it usually stands for "not often fun but not without fun" and "based upon study but including many other activities also." Some things about this campus anger, enthrall, and disappoint people. Relationships with fellow students develop despite great inhibiting factors such as the competition and the small personal living space. Rules impose harsh realities upon some, but generally they are understood as necessary. The isolation of the school presents many opportunities for creative self-entertainment. Through it all the Kiski student is different because he learns early on such characteristics as patience, respect, and self-motivation. While this is easily stated, the process is long and difficult but eventually habit forming.

Freshman year is one of discovery. Consciously and unconsciously the new students strive to adapt. Not much more than a dedicated energy toward simple duties is expected. Freshmen don't learn much scholastically compared to what they do about school life. Many times I just copied the seniors, but my eyes also saw the possibilities for accomplishment. I contemplated what others had done and what I wanted to do. Many of the seniors weren't people to me, just names with achievements associated with them. Through individual and group achievement the seniors become the teaching establishment. At the end of each year a manic depression enters the school's body for it is losing its lifeblood. However, a rapturous joy coexists because the yearly transfusion this body receives produces an enduring and unique vigor in the school. I regret that I never knew those people I respected.

Sophomore year is a more practical experience than the year before. Adapting is easier because one comes with a knowledge of the environment. Students find out about each other this year, the last in which the entire class is in the same dormitory. Studying is not as important as trying out many activities and clubs. The luckier kids find their niches, most stumble on. Sophomores are looked upon as the lost class, being neither upper-classmen nor the new guys.

Courses, grades, and standard tests highlight the junior year. Good relationships grow with teachers, and a student's finest work is often completed at this time. Varsity sports rank highly for the talented ones. The best concentration belongs to the juniors. The realization of long term goals, or at least the first sight of success happens to juniors.

Everyone works in separate directions yet as a class the seniors are always the closest. Good careers end with the hopes of better ones; bad careers end with the hope of good ones. Not a true rebelliousness but a year-long spring fever manifests itself in the seniors. Grades and core classes act as a nuisance because most find some area that they can't wait to delve into but are forced to sacrifice a large amount of time to other subjects instead. I, like many other inspired classmates, divided my loyalty among too many activities. This is easily done and may seem profitable, but eventually the overzealous student loses out. If the buildings form the skeleton and the teachers the muscles capable of directing the body of students in any direction, then the seniors are the crucial lifeblood pulsating energy throughout the entity which is the school. While the entire student body is important, the senior class directs the educational institution.

Hum-Bum,

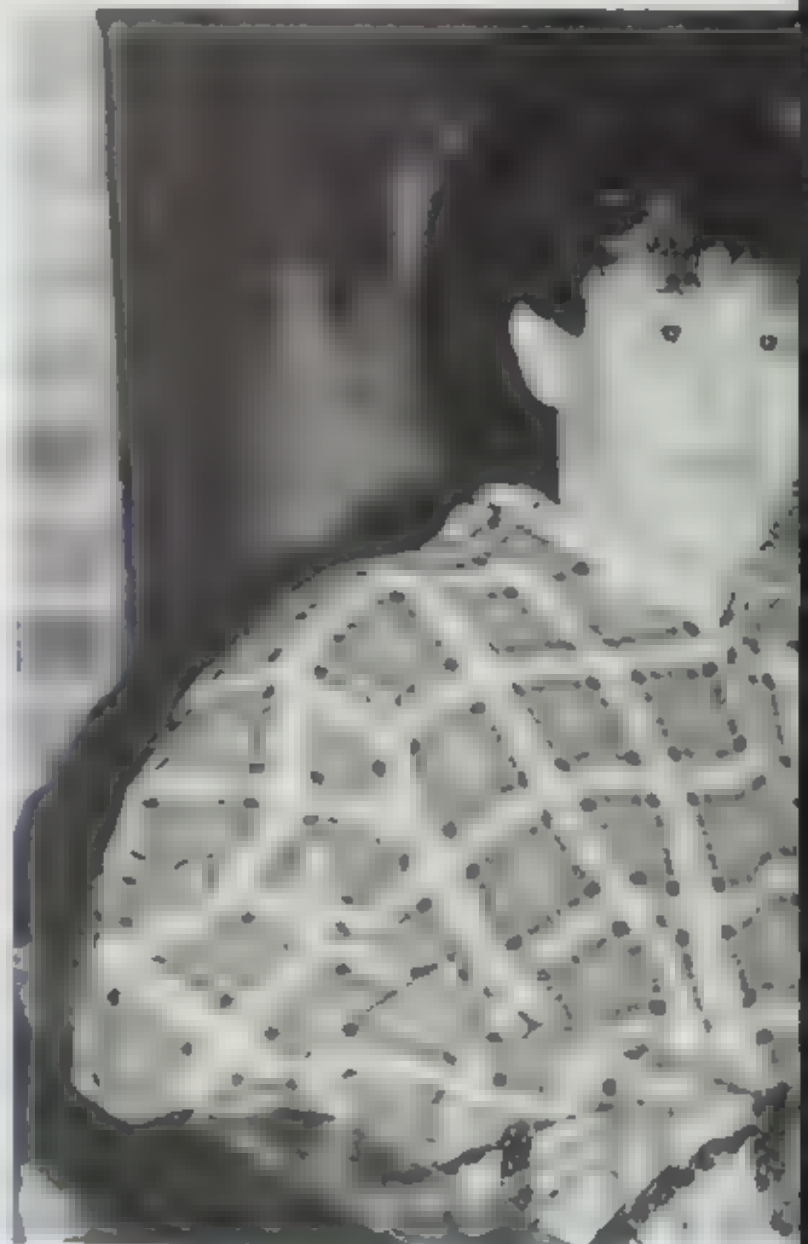

Well, well, well the year is over, and the Fat Day is going to swing tomorrow morning.
 I am glad that we got to know each other this year. You're the best man that I have ever met, no - don't let that get to your head - I will never forget the football games in the fall and all the crazy things that you, George and Mike always did. Take care and always stay to the studs - Good luck in college and thank Mother Kiski. Give her love and tell her love me up - until then. Cheers Bob, what's up? I'm fine. I've been just a little bit sick. I'm feeling better now. I'm going to bed. I hope you're doing well. I'll be in touch

Bob

 soon. Love, [Name]

The 1987 varsity football team had a successful season under the watchful eye of new head coach Mr. Klausung. Kiski's final record was 5-1-1, which earned the Cougars a tie for the league championship with Western Reserve Academy.

This year's team worked together as if they had been a team for years. Leadership filtered down from the coaching staff to captain and quarterback Connor Bost and down to the rest of the team. When Connor was injured and lost for the season in the Linsly game, the seniors and junior quarterback Damon Barry responded by picking up the slack and leading the team to victories against Mercersburg, University School, and Shady Side Academy.

The success of the Cougars was a team effort in which the entire squad contributed. It was also a year in which next year's starters gained valuable experience for the future. Congratulations league champs!

This year's junior varsity football season was disappointing as far as its record was concerned. However, the team improved through hard practices and showed hope for next year's varsity squad. The team suffered throughout the season from mental errors and the loss of our starting quarterback, Pat Regan, to the varsity. Toward the end of the season, the mental errors were disposed of and the team worked together very well. The quarterbacks also matured, leading the team to a victory against Marion Center, and a hard fought loss to Shady Side.

Although this was a losing season according to the record, we would call it a triumph because the team showed great improvement and the players proved to be well disciplined. The Cougars worked hard to help the varsity win and deserves credit for backing them throughout the season.

The Kiski freshman football team had a successful season. They played aggressive offense and strong defense. With Mr. Jessup calling the offense and Mr. Muster the defense, they only lost one game to a tough Greensburg Central Catholic team. Led by Jamie McKibbin, Steve Horn, John Chen, and Jorge Mazur, the team showed itself to be a good one. In the third game of the season, the freshmen shut out Ligonier, 8-0. The following week they played a tough Bishop McCort team, beating them 20-12. The highpoint of the season was the game against Shady Side Academy. The Cougars beat them 20-0 in what was an aggressive game dominated by Kiski defense. Kiski played Marion Center in the final game of the season, and beat the hard-hitting team 18-7. Steve Horn scored on a quarterback sneak, Jamie McKibbin on a twenty yard run, and John Chen on an impressive fifty yard sprint. The team ended the season with a 4-1-0 record.

Although the 1987 varsity soccer team had its ups and downs, overall the season should be looked upon as a success. With a final record of 6-8-2 the team was more successful than most people would have ever guessed. The team was young and inexperienced at the beginning of the season, but improved greatly as the season progressed. The starting team consisted of only five senior lettermen and three junior lettermen. It was made of an offense of Tom Ashcraft, Dave Preslar, and Marlow Yurick. The midfielders were Sebastian Bvers, Chris Albert, and Dave Harrison. Captains Bob Diamond and Phil Pringle along with Kendall Chitambar and Thad Kresho made up the defense. K.C. Hopkins stood his ground in goal, as Andrew Patterson came in to play great games in goal when called upon.

The second string and bench players contributed greatly as well, while they learned a great deal about soccer and also got a valuable experience. The supports of the offensive line were Gabriel Markovich, Jack Fuehlhart, Jason Ream, and Jason Gindele. The second line of midfielders was Zach Boyers, John Simons, Dave Schattauer, and Geoff Graham. The defenders that came off the bench to help out were Sean Corrigan, Steve John, and Mark Absy.

Plagued by inconsistency, the team found itself losing to inferior squads, as was the case in the Linsly game. Yet moments of greatness shone through, like in the Mercersburg game. Another great game was the University School game, in which the tie was the first time in forty years that Kiski did not lose on University School's homefield.

Mr. Orsatti and Mr. Szilagyi greatly improved the team and did two commendable jobs with the great inexperience and youth on the team. As for the seniors, congratulations are in order and we hope you return to see the 1988 soccer team avenge your loss to Shady Side. To next year's team, good luck and carry on always with poise and perseverance. Finally, infinite thanks should go to those teachers, students and families who contributed their sincerely appreciated support.

This year's junior varsity soccer team had a fun and satisfying season. The final record was 5-5-6. The wins came mostly at the end of the season, while the ties and losses were evenly distributed in the early part of the season. Kiski lost or tied to several teams in the beginning of the season, only to defeat these same teams at the end of the season. Distinct improvements in skill and teamwork were noted throughout the fall.

There were enough team members this year to constitute two teams. It was very difficult for Coach Kane to play everyone in a single game, so the solution was found in scheduling two games with each school whenever possible.

Team captains were usually Sean White and Whit Belden. Mr. Kane's coaching was augmented by a great deal of help from Mr. Manoli, and Mr. Fisher was on hand throughout the season as well.

Outstanding players on the team were not hard to come by this season. Andy Patterson was the starting keeper when not playing varsity. The front line varied throughout the season, with Jim Musser, Scott Coppie, Chris Brewer, Sean White and Eric Cutler. Greg Manifesto proved to be a great striker after being moved from stopper. Outstanding work by Chuck Yellig and Eric Vogel was seen at the midfield. The defense was solid behind Christian Crawford, Ben Assanasen, Hoon Lee, and Whit Belden. The team was very young and would like to thank its coaches for a great season.

The freshman soccer team had a very successful season under the coaching of Dr. Krawiec and Mr. Lane. We ended the season with a record of 8-4 and outscored our opponents 34 goals to 18. The highlight of the season was beating Shady Side Academy 1-0 with an outstanding performance by Brian Doty in goal. The team attitude and spirit was the key to the team's success. The team was led by the Captains Charles Kresho, Dee Dippel, and Pierre Barua, who kept the team in order and built up the team spirit. The starting line-up consisted of Kurt Shaffer, J.C. Stone, Sayam Tiewtranon, and Charles Kresho on the front line. Dee Dippel, Pierre Barua and Neil Gilman were the halfbacks, Dan Ream, Chris Duplaga and Chip Jenne were the defenders. Brian Doty was the goal keeper. We would like to wish the best of luck to next year's freshman.

Inspired by the cheer of "On", the Kiski varsity cross country team proved to be one of the strongest teams Mr. Nagle has ever coached, racking up a marvelous 12-1 record.

The mix of five veteran cindermen and three relative novices proved the correct formula for a winning team. But training began far in advance of preseason with the meticulously planned and tailored running schedules offered to all prospective varsity candidates. It was left to the digression how much of the 800 mile goal they would attempt. The team had a choice between disregard and mediocrity or diligence and excellence. Obviously they chose the latter.

Captained by Dan Krokosky, a four-year letter winner, and following a healthy preseason, the team breezed through their first four meets with outstanding unity. Before the County Meet a significant portion of the team became ill, resulting in the temporary loss of such key runners as Ben Stechshulte and Jim Denny. A valiant attempt by the residuals landed Kiski in a respectable third place position, greatly enhanced by Tony Prenni's first place finish. With the return of the ill runners as well as the welcomed addition of Bryson VanNostrand to the team, victory reasserted itself once again. At the team's meet with Shady Side, Tony Prenni ran his best time ever and beat the Kiski course record with an outstanding 17:06. Though Kiski lost, the team came away convinced of their physical and moral supremacy. At a frigid, muddy, University School course, Endersbe and Stechshulte clinched the match for the team in the last quarter mile by overtaking leading US runners and trailing Krokosky and Prenni. Throughout the mud-choked course Kiski persevered. The IPSL Championship presented the cindermen with an opportunity to redeem themselves against Shady Side. Strong races were run by Prenni, who placed first, Stechshulte, who placed an amazing second with 17:32, Endersbe, third, Van Nostrand, 12th, Krokosky, 13th, Denny, Jessup, and DeHaas. These races helped to earn Kiski its second league title since 1979 and also the pride that goes with a job well done.

The 1987 Kiski golf team enjoyed one of its finest seasons in many years. After a close victory over arch-rival Sewickley Academy, we easily defeated Quigley and Taylor Alderdice. After several rain-outs, Kiski put its undefeated record on the line against Shady Side Academy. This victory, the highlight of the season, was the first win over the Indians in several years. Despite the strong challenge offered by the Kiski Area team, the young Cougars won by a narrow margin. A disappointing fourth place finish at the I.P.S.L. championship was the low point of the season. The young Cougars bounced back with a win against Shaler High School and another victory over Sewickley Academy. Despite the loss to Indiana High School, the Cougars posted a fine record of seven wins and one loss.

With only one letterman returning, this year was considered to be a rebuilding one. Only the fine performances of this young team led to the successful season. Richard Cole and Andy Mirkin held the team's number one and two positions. The number three and four positions were held by Captain Carl Paletti and John Bash. Sharing playing time in the last two positions were Michael Crooks, Shawn Burkey, Greg Hammerton, and Perry Crawford. Other team members included Michael Kirkell, Lee Potter, Scott Pacek, and Chad Bittenbender. With at least three returning lettermen for next year's squad, the Cougars will have the potential for a championship season. Only with consistent play and Mr. Crawford's sound advice can this become a reality.

While most varsity teams complain about a one or two week pre-season, the Varsity swim team began their season in mid-September, two and a half grueling months before encountering competition. Now the tears of a varsity swimmer are so well known that they need not be recounted. Those long months of morning practices known to swimmers and the perpetual trudging of stairs are mere bygone memories. One must gasp at the commitment and integrity of the athlete to withstand the hours of immensely intense training in the water. Under the powerful coaching of Mr. Pidgeon and Mr. Ippolito, the team kept their eyes on February and endured the long journey.

Competition opened up with a huge win over the Hill School, a very auspicious start to the season. The team then went on to win the I.P.S.L. Relays for the eleventh consecutive time. Other sweet victories during the season included the one over the Navy JV team and putting University School back in their place. Kiski's only loss was to Hawken School. Despite the sudden loss of top divers, Mike Bennett and David Preslar, the Kiski team kept the score close throughout the meet and only suffered by a twelve point margin.

With five months of swimmers' hell behind them, the team finally reached the long awaited taper. The well deserved rest was complemented by the daily frenzy of jelly beans. The team traveled to Shady Side for the I.P.S.L. Championships and, after a year in enemy hands, the John A. Pidgeon Swimming Trophy was returned to the rightful owners. The victory was achieved by the conglomerate efforts of everyone involved. Fans, friends, families, managers, swimmers and coaches are all accredited for the phenomenal victory at Shady Side.

Eleven swimmers continued to train for the Eastern Prep School Championships at Philadelphia. Excellent performances and several bests were turned in by all who participated.

It was a difficult season for all. Many times everyone was extremely tired and frustrated. We endured and ultimately achieved that internal satisfaction that wipes away all previous endeavors. Machiavelli was right, "The end does justify the means." Thank you, Niccolo, and congratulations swimmers on a very successful season.

The Kiski junior varsity swim team had quite a interesting season. Each swimmer contributed. There was a great deal of spirit and ability present among every junior tanker. The team learned to improve the quality of their strokes and physical condition as the days rolled by. None of this would have been possible without the patience of Coach Shepard. There were many special and funny experiences that won't be forgotten by anyone. Well, maybe Brewer. See Chris Brewer wasn't always mentally present during practices and meets. (Remember your false starts Chris?) Despite his lack of concentration, his swimming ability was one of the teams' best. I'm sure he will be looking forward to demonstrating his skills next year — not to the JV's but to the wonderful varsity experience. Good Luck Chris!

The Coach's award went to Pierre Barua. Throughout the season Pierre managed to stay in the right frame of mind and do extremely well. His impeccable attitude was one desired by many. Steve Horn was able to keep up with the most swimmers and help the squad with his versatile style.

The swimmer that swam the year with the most illnesses, had to be Christian Crawford. His backstroke, however, was great.

The team was blessed with some bad, but ignored habits. One of these was Chad Bittenbender's constant use of the pull-buoy to make practice easier. Ben Little's approach was rather different. He chose to tough it out and even do a 100 butterfly. Even though Eric Duke didn't have the widest range of music taste he had what it took to be a successful contributor to the backstroke event. Matt Perkins has to be some kind of wonderful, trust me. Some days he would be flawless in the I.M. during practice, but he always seemed to end up last in line in the 400 Free relay. Since I am a writer of this special edition, I will spare myself the grief of any questionable characterizations. Dave Harrison provided much enthusiasm for the team and his potato chip stones were much enjoyed by the van load of junior tankers on the away meets. Even Coach Shepard enjoyed them. This entire article was written for the junior varsity swimmers so that they will have pictorial memories to look back upon. However, and I think I speak for all the J.V. swimmers, the team was blessed with the presence of some varsity swimmers during the meets throughout the season. This was greatly appreciated. Once again I'd like to thank everyone that contributed in one way or another to make the season successful and most of all, fun.

The 1987-88 varsity wrestling team had a very successful season. After two years of mediocrity in the League, the I.P.S.L. wrestling trophy is now back where it belongs. The mat men ended the season with an 11-4 record

This strong team did not consist of several "studs" who could be counted on for 6 points every match. It consisted of 13 wrestlers who were willing to go out on the mat and wrestle to a point better than their ability. Wrestling is not a team sport, but without all the encouragement and support this team had for one another we may not have been as successful. Each wrestler had his job to wrestle for 6 minutes (or longer) heads up, stomach down, full-tilt, using sheer aggression and always looking to hit a "varsagar." Or as Mr. Brown says, "All you have to do is pin him. It's that simple"

This year's I.P.S.L. champs had only 3 champions at League tourney Thad Kresho, Russ Duke, and Darrell Knopfel. We also had three runners up, Charlie (L.L.) Kresho, Jim Knoer, and Bill Hess. The rest of the team placed at least 4th or better in the tournament

The mat men would like to thank Mr. Brown for working them to near death. It proved to be very helpful in the 3rd period when we needed one take down. They would also like to thank him for letting them do hours of "mule-train" throughout the year. It helps us get that last stand up and escape necessary for victory. We had to work harder and longer than our opponents because we may not have been as talented as them, but we could out last them and out wrestle them

Congratulations Cougars for a job well done

This year's varsity basketball team, led by starter Jamal Jordan, Pat Regan, Bob Diamond, Chris Chada, and Rich Rushak, finished their season with a super showing against Western Reserve in the opening round of the I.P.S.L. tournament. The team had been struggling all year, losing 6 games by only a single point. Experience and hard work unfortunately did not pay off entirely until the end of the season against W.R.A. The Cougars played the game of the year in front of the student body. The team lost the game in the final 5 seconds but they certainly proved to all in attendance that they were a solid basketball team. It was almost a cinderella ending to a hard-fought and frustrating season. Unfortunately, the new team had difficulty putting together four solid consecutive quarters of basketball against any one opponent. Although this was the team's significant downfall, a definite maturation was visible by season's end against Shady Side and Western Reserve. All of the players contributed and remained unified through some very trying times. With only 5 seniors on the team this year, the underclassmen will surely learn from our mistakes. This past season will help them overcome the obstacles in the future and hopefully all the one point losses will go in our favor next year. The team would like to thank the student body for staying behind us and showing us that we could be proud for doing our best. Warm appreciation to both Mr. Manoli and Mr. Muffley for their time and effort.

The junior varsity basketball team had a 7-7 season due to Mr. Muffley's coaching expertise, Greg Hammerton's shot, Bryan Repko's rebounds, and James Bradley's strong support.

The team emerged victorious against Allegheny Academy, Derry Area, Leechburg, St. Josephs, Yough, and Laurel Valley. The team also lost gracefully and respectfully, but not willingly to Sewickley Academy (twice), Linsly, E.T. Williams, Shannock Valley, Allegheny Academy, and archrival Shady Side Academy.

The team consisted of such fine athletes as pointguards: Greg Hammerton and John Chen; off guards: Dave Schattauer, Allan Cook, Jason Gindele, Zack Boyers, John Jacobs, and Jeff Zaback, and the forwards and centers: Alex Mussio, Tyler Olsen, James Bradley and the dynamic duo of Bryan Repko and Mark McSorley; last but not least, the manager Matt Wolfson.

The team had a productive season. They worked hard and together, but never forgot to put some fun into the game.

To finish this article, I'd like to thank Mr. Muffley for his time and patience, and I wish him the best of luck in the years to come.

The 1988 freshman "A" basketball team had a disappointing season. They finished with a 0-13 record with losses to Indiana, and Marion Center before Christmas break. We returned after Christmas with a willingness to play some ball, but we were still not mentally ready with different members changing roles in the middle of the season. We had strong performances toward the end of the year by Rob Kurth, Chris Goodwin, and Dee Dipple. The rest of the team should be congratulated on their strong efforts. We appreciate all the support and extra help by our coach, Mr. Jessup. We also thank all the people who attended the games and supported us. Mr. Jessup taught us more than just being basketball players, he taught us how to be good sportsmen. Congratulations to the Freshman "B" team, and to Mr. Kane on their good season.

The Freshman "B" Basketball team, under the coaching of Mr. Kane finished their season with two wins and ten losses. Although the team started the season off slowly, they gradually improved as the season progressed. Andrew Graham, who was the high scorer, and Rich Critchfield joined the team midway through the season and made a great contribution. Although the team suffered many losses, their hard work payed off when they won their last two games against Elderton. In the last ten seconds of the game, Ethan Russman rebounded a foul shot and laved the ball in for a 23-22 lead over Elderton. The players learned team work and responsibility along with basketball techniques which will benefit them in years to come.

The entire team would like to thank Mr. Kane for his time and patience.

The Yearbook

A club like the yearbook demands dedication. Several individuals committed themselves to the yearbook and, under the guidance of Mr. Lombardo, all deadlines were met.

This year's staff was led by Jay Pignatello. Layout editor Mark McSorley once again donated his time and talent to help train newcomers and draw new layouts. Typing editor Pete Melamed always came through in the clutch, with the help of Brian Endersbe, Andy Cook, and John Tsai. Responsible for the editing of the organizations articles was Sean Nolan. Dan Krokosky edited the sports articles. Of course, without the darkroom men, editor Dave Wells and Mark Abassy, there wouldn't have been any pictures.

Mr. Lombardo is to be extolled for the patience and enthusiasm which emanated from his persona. Without his assistance and the help of those pictured above, this 100th year edition would not have been published.

The Glee Club

The Kiski Glee Club is the oldest organized club on campus. Those wishing to join the Glee Club must audition at the beginning of the school year. Once a member, one is required to attend rehearsals twice a week for one hour in the Rogers Fine Arts Center. Each member receives a pass/fail grade each month which is worth $\frac{1}{4}$ credit for the year.

The Glee Club sings a variety of music. A group which branches from the Glee Club is the Kiski Dozen, chosen by director and accompanist Mrs. Vlahos.

During the year the Glee Club has several performances scheduled

They perform in the Rogers Fine Arts Center for Vesper Services and also with girls schools from the area. Faculty, students, and parents attend these performances quite frequently. The Glee Club also travels off campus to girls schools and they occasionally perform in churches. Following the concert events with girls schools the Glee Club always has a dance. These dances are a great chance to get acquainted with girls from other schools.

The Glee Club is the ideal club to join for those who like to sing, perform and even socialize and get to know other people.

National Forensic League

Successively from 1978 through 1986, Kiski managed to qualify at least one person to N F L Nationals. Last year, the streak ended. There were, however, several bright spots in last year's competitions. At National qualifiers, Kendall Chitambar placed third in Dramatic Interpretation, Jennifer Bushee finished sixth in Domestic Extemporaneous Speaking, and Michael Kirkell placed fourth in Domestic Extemporaneous Speaking and fifth in Lincoln-Douglas Debate. This year, our chapter's president is Michael Kirkell. Also involved in the quest for national qualification are Kendall Chitambar, Sebastian Byers, John Hartnett, and Paul Minda. Although the year is relatively young, Kiski sent two people, Paul Minda and Michael Kirkell, to a high school level competition on Jefferson Forum topics. Michael Kirkell was chosen as a delegate and Paul Minda as an alternative for Indiana County for a four day reenactment of the ratification of the Constitution. With the early success of Kirkell and Minda, and the apparent potential of this year's members, our chapter of N F L wishes to start a new nationals streak this year.

Drama Club

The Drama Club is not new to Kiski, but during the past few years it has excelled beyond normal high school standards to achieve a high quality of acting and professionalism.

The Drama Club consists of two groups of students: the cast of the fall production and Mrs. Gray's advanced drama class. However, there are some students who are in both. One does not have to be in the advanced class to be in the fall production, but must be in the class to participate in the spring play.

This club does not seek to bring prestige and recognition to the individual actor or even to the cast as a whole. It tries to develop the individual person and to bring out the latent qualities and talents that each of us possesses.

There is only one person, however, to whom I'd like to bring particular attention. That is Mrs. Gray. She has brought the Drama Club to its present standard of performance. Despite other commitments to her family, her teaching, and the very time-consuming work as college counselor, Mrs. Gray always manages to find the time to work with the Drama Club and bring about tremendous results.

The entire Drama Club would like to thank Mrs. Gray for giving us her precious time and for being there to help in any difficult situation.

The Political Forum

The Political Forum is designed to give all interested Kiski boys the opportunity to increase their knowledge of political affairs and further discuss such affairs in an in-depth manner. The forum meets twice a month at faculty member's homes, where faculty members speak about political areas that are of interest to them. The forum also travels to Pittsburgh and local universities to hear noted speakers. The club is privileged to have guests come to speak at Kiski via the World Affairs

Council of Pittsburgh. In addition to the two faculty advisors, Dr. Gray and Mr. Pueschel, the forum has an executive committee consisting of three student members who organize the trips and meetings. The three esteemed members elected this year to the committee are Esteban Correa, Steve Szilagyi, and Jim Kucik. The forum is looking forward to an exciting and very active year and hopes to again make the trip to Washington D.C. in the spring.

Cooking Club

The Cooking Club, as always, was the most popular club on campus. With Mr. Turley as head chef and Tom Kavouras as president, many gourmet dishes were prepared.

Students formed groups to prepare a meal in a faculty member's kitchen, usually on weekends. The club would like to thank Mr. Turley for his time and effort that he was always willing to give freely to the club. We would also like to thank all those faculty members who allowed the students to use their kitchens as experimental laboratories.

The Photography Club

The Photography Club is available to all Kiski students who have an interest in Photography and who wish to pursue it. The club is comprised of students with various abilities, ranging from novice to four years of experience. The Photography Club meets formally once a week, and the dark room is available for use at any time. Students in conjunction with the art department are able to enter various art shows in the area and in Pittsburgh. Members of the club also furnish photos for Yearbook, The Kiski News, and other Kiski publications. This Spring the club will sponsor an inter-school photo contest.

The Woodworking Club

The Kiski Woodworking Club is a versatile organization whose members range from novice crafters to seasoned craftsmen. The club stimulates one's creative processes as well as one's skill with hand and machine tools. The best devices are there and only the boundary of the imagination limits the scope of the projects accomplished. Thanks to frequent sessions held twice a week, members are encouraged to embark upon many a creative adventure in wood. The help of the woodworking club is also instrumental in set construction for the Kiski Drama Club. Supervised by Mr. Rutilla and presided over by David Wells, this year's club promises to be better than ever.

The Varsity Club

The Varsity Club includes those student athletes who have earned their varsity letter. Known affectionately as the 'food guys', this group happily sets up the refreshment stands at home sporting events and distributes the food. With the money earned from the stands, varsity athletes may purchase letter jackets at a reduced price.

The extroverted leaders of this year's Varsity Club are Jim Kuck, President, Connor Bost, Vice-President, and Jay Pignatello, Secretary. These officials assign members to work at the stand or hand out programs.

Mr. Manoli is the faculty advisor. With his business mind and etiquette, everything runs smoothly and the cleanup afterwards is always sufficient.

The club is one which does a great deal for the athletic events held at Kiski. Without the club, not only would the Varsity letter winners not be honored, but those attending the games would not be able to enjoy a warm cup of coffee on a cold day.

Literary Forum

The Kiski Literary Forum is a flourishing and enthusiastic club which welcomes any and all attempts at literary composition: short stories, poems, essays, criticisms, or even groundbreaking longer pieces. We meet twice monthly at the home of Dr. and Mrs. Gray and spend approximately two hours exchanging ideas on works read by students. It is a cozy and loose atmosphere in which sparks constantly fly off the edge of imagination and intense discussion. Another dimension is added to our meetings when Dr. Gray shares his own efforts and reflections with the group.

Our close-knit club is the primary impetus for the annual literary magazine, Springs. We look forward to this publication eagerly as it is a tangible result of creativity and inspiration. It is hoped that the forum will publish at least two volumes of Springs this year, Kiski's Centennial. The editing and sorting will also be shifted to a few interested members instead of being handled by Dr. and Mrs. Gray, as has been done in previous years. Good luck forum and thanks to the Gray's.

The Stage and Technical Crews

The Stage and Technical Crews are important organizations that help the Glee and Drama Clubs prepare for their performances. Both clubs are under the direction of Mr. Stokes and club president Neil Pettes. The clubs work with the lighting, stage and audio equipment in Rogers Fine Arts Center. The members of these clubs learn to use and set up the lights and set designs for all performances. These clubs would like to thank Mr. Stokes for the time and effort he provided this year.

The Audio-Visual Club

The Audio-Visual Club is one of the most respected clubs on campus. This group is responsible for many activities such as showing films for special classes and showing the important Saturday night movie as well as other odd jobs around campus. Members learn to use a variety of equipment available to the club.

Under the leadership of Christon Evans and Scott Cooper there is no doubt that this group will perform to new heights. The club would especially like to thank Mr. Stokes for his time, his instruction, and most of all his patience in helping to make the Audio-Visual Club once again a strong and respected activity at Kiski.

The German Club

Kiski students have always enjoyed meeting together simply to learn more about the culture of the country whose language they practice each day. The inaugural meeting of the 1987-88 Kiski German Club collected students from all over campus into the Clark Hall day room. First year members and veterans alike watched in suspense as the plot of Death in Venice unfolded. Refreshments as well as short explanations from Mr.

Lane made the viewing a satisfying experience for all. Similar events, such as a competition at Slippery Rock University in the spring, are eagerly awaited. Fourth year students will look to the club to complement their studies in anticipation of a possible advanced placement test. The German Club will attempt to fulfill these expectations in addition to providing opportunities for students to use German in informal circumstances.

The Horticulture Club

The 1987-88 Horticulture Club is off to another promising year of beautifying the campus. One may have noticed the flowers in the Dining Hall during Father's Weekend, and the poinsettias last year in Old Main and the Dining Hall during the Christmas season. Another big project is the planting of flowers by seed before Spring Break, and using them for decoration around campus.

One of the reasons for the success of the club is our charismatic leader, Mr. Shepard, who has led us through the ups and downs of the growing season. This year's membership is the largest for any Horticulture Club in Kiski history; this means less work and more fun for everyone. I'd like to thank Mr. Shepard for organizing the club, K.C. Hopkins for being our esteemed president, and all the members for contributing the time and effort needed to make the club a success.

The Chess Club

The Chess Club is a club for the beginner as well as the veteran chess player. The club is headed by Mr. Orsatti who gives lessons to the beginners as well as challenging the veteran players. Members can also improve their game by using the Paul Whitehead Teaches Chess computer chess program. Members challenge each other to games during the meetings. The Sargon III and the Chessmaster 2000 computer chess programs are available for those without a playing partner or for those looking for a good game. The members can join the U.S. Chess Federation and receive a rating for playing in tournaments at Kiski and Pittsburgh. Chess matches against other L.P.S.L. schools are planned.

The Chess Club gives the members a chance to compete against each other in a friendly game of chess and a chance to learn more about the "Royal Game." The Chess Club President this year is John Tsai. The Chess Club meets on Tuesdays and Thursdays in the library after dinner. Everyone is welcome to join.

The Chess Club would like to thank Mr. Orsatti for his time and effort.

The Weightlifting Club

The Weightlifting Club, under the supervision of Dr. Bushee, provides the select membership with direct access to the free and universal weightrooms. The club's president this year, Esteban Correa, and vice-presidents, Dave Selinger and Jason Ridilla, provide the leadership, motivation, and assistance in helping the members to obtain the most out of their workouts. The club meets on a definite schedule of at least two times a week. The members would like to thank Dr. Bushee very much for fitting this club into his busy schedule.

The 1987-88 Kiski Program Council has approximately ninety members. The president of the council is senior Esteban Correa. Mr. Nanney is the faculty advisor of the Program Council. With advice and direction from Mr. Nanney and leadership from Esteban Correa, the Program Council makes decisions on all campus movies. It chooses films from a catalog of motion picture movies which are ordered. The council's past selection of movies have included Superman III, The Color of Money, and Caddy Shack. The Program Council has added variety to the Kiski campus and is pleased that it can contribute

LAST WRITES

I have participated in the publication of three yearbooks since my arrival at Kiski. Being a part of the staff which gathers all materials concerning sports, clubs, teachers, and students and planning exactly how this information will be placed throughout a book has been one of my biggest challenges and an enjoyable experience.

Whether a one year senior, or a four year freak, every graduate of the Class of 1988 will leave the Kiski campus with a plethora of remembrances. Through the book, I hoped to preserve as many of these memories as was possible. The book should serve as a remembrance of the Kiski Experience.

I wish to thank Kiski for all the memories. I will cherish the experience forever. To the seniors, best of luck in college and there after.

John Signatelli
Editor-in-Chief
